LAST TIME OUT

Charlotte avoided losing a season-high three games by taking down Milwaukee, 4-2, on Wednesday night to earn the series split with the Admirals. Kyle Criscuolo netted his 12th and 13th goals in the contest, including the game-winner in the third period. Justin Sourdif, while he saw his goal-streak come to an end at three games, added a helper to keep his point streak alive at four games. Also scoring in the game for the Checkers were Rasmus Asplund and Will Lockwood. For Lockwood, it was his third goal since returning from injury five games ago, and was his fourth overall point in that span. The Checkers penalty-kill got back on track going 4-for-4 in the game, after giving up two goals to Milwaukee on Tuesday and two goals to Hershey on Saturday. Ken Appleby logged the win in goal, his 10th of the season, by stopping 13 of the 15 shots he saw.

STAGGERING SHOT DIFFERENTIAL

The second period of Charlotte's game against Milwaukee on Wednesday would see the Checkers surrender a season-low shots against in a single period with two, while firing a the second most shots for in a period with 18. By nature, that was also their largest shot differential in a single period this season at +16. In total, Charlotte has held teams to less than 20 shots eight times this year, including Wednesday where Milwaukee registered 15.

CRISCUOLO IS COOKIN'

After logging 20 points in his first 18 games of the season, Kyle Criscuolo went cold for the Checkers starting in early December managing only three points in his next 15 games. On Wednesday night, the New Jersey born native scored twice, including the game winner to help his team avoid a four-game losing streak. It was his third multi-goal performance of the season - first since November 22nd - and his eighth multi-point night.

WELCOME BACK WOLF PACK

The weekend series between Charlotte and Hartford marks the first set of games at Bojangles Coliseum this season between the pair. The last time these two teams met in the Queen City, it was last season when Hartford overcame a 1-0 series deficit to win back-to-back games and bounce the Checkers from the first round of the Calder Cup Playoffs. The two teams have played each other twice this season, with Hartford coming out on top both times. Charlotte is 0-1-0-1 having most recently lost 5-4 in the shootout back on November 19, 2024.
